Tasmanian Association of Vocational Rehabilitation Providers (TAVRP) Inc Invites you and your colleagues to a Breakfast PD Presentation : Registration now Open

How effective teams positively impact workplace mental health.

Businesses have always been confronted with the need to adapt and confront change. This has been heightened throughout COVID-19 restrictions. Businesses that are able to build and support effective teamwork are much better placed to be able to take on these challenges. An effective team environment also provides an extremely positive support network for employees within these businesses, enabling them to better cope with their own personal challenges.

Presenter: Sherri Ring

Sherri has 30 years of experience as a leader, coach and innovator within the health and fitness industry. Her business Energy Health is a leading provider in health, fitness and wellbeing in Tasmania. Sherri is innovative, passionate, and truly wants to make a difference to people's lives by instilling a positive health culture and lifestyle. Sherri is also the brainchild behind The Mind Games, a corporate team building event designed to help start the conversation around poor mental health and highlight ways to create an environment for good mental health, develop positive and effective teams, and raise funds for supporting research into workplace mental health
